We review what is known about the Hodge conjecture for abelian varieties, with some emphasis on how Mumford-Tate groups have been applied to this problem.Comment: 68 pages, AMSTeX. To appear as Appendix B in the upcoming second edition of "A Survey of the Hodge Conjecture" by James D. Lewi ... CORE - Victoria J. Hodge (vicky@cs.york.ac.uk) ... The data in the figures in this survey paper is adapted from the Wine data set (Blake+Merz, 1998). John (John, 1995) states that an outlier may also be a surprising veridical data point, a point belonging to class A but actually situated inside class B so the true (veridical) classification of the point is surprising to the observer.
